

Deloitte.

In safe hands

Deloitte turns to the transport experts to look after its staff on their training journeys.

The challenge

Global consultancy Deloitte employs 16,000 people in the UK. The company runs frequent training events for employees in different parts of the country.

Many events are held in areas remote from urban centres, to ensure participants are able to step back from daily business. This means there is a frequent requirement for transfer from airports and rail stations.

Safe, smooth transport to and from these locations is critical to ensure staff well-being and help them make the most of their training sessions.

The solution

Deloitte uses First Travel Solutions to meet its transport needs – adding up to around 35,000 passenger journeys per year.

Drawing on our unrivalled network of trusted providers, we supply Deloitte’s transport across the UK, from taxis to long-distance coaches.

All operations are overseen by our 24-hour control centre, which is equipped to respond to urgent requirements or last-minute schedule changes.
